

A Special Picnic Day

Today, Joyce, her teacher and her few classmates went on a school picnic, but something unexpected happened at the picnic.

At first, they were at the school cafeteria preparing food for the picnic, there were sandwiches covered with jam, some fresh salad, fruit and a lot more. They were more than ready for the picnic. After preparing, they packed up everything and were ready to leave. They took the ferry to Lamma Island. While going to Lamma Island, they saw a beautiful view on the ferry. The sun was shining on the water, the water was so clear and beautiful they could even see the fish swimming around.

After they arrived at Lamma Island, they took out the food and the picnic mat, they ate happily while chattering joyfully. However, Joyce looked at the clouds above them, there were dark clouds. Then, Joyce felt a few raindrops on her hand. There was a huge rainstorm! That's when they realized they forgot to bring umbrellas. They looked around and found a random wooden house and hid in it. They had no idea what that wooden house was nor who it belonged to, but there was a huge rainstorm so they had to go inside. After a few minutes, they heard footsteps coming towards them, the floor was creaking and cranking. There was a scent of smelly dead mosquitos, the class was scared and terrified. Then, a big old man came and asked, "Are you guys having trouble with the rain? I haven't bathed for months, but here are some umbrellas, so you can enjoy your picnic." The class was in a relief, it turned out it was just an old house with a kind old man living it.

At last, they enjoyed the picnic even though there was a rainstorm.
